WATERBOY IN HIS OLD FORM

LEADS ALL THE WAY IN THE HANDICAP AND WINS EASILY.

With 126 Pounds Up He Runs Broomstick. Odds on Favorite, Off His Feet and Latter Surrenders Place to Resettint -Lady Amelia First in Fast Time.

Waterboy is himself again. The famous sen of Watercress-Zealandia won the over-night handicap, one mile and a furiong, at night handicap, one mile and a future. Brighton yesterday in magnificent style by a length and a half in 1:32. He picked up 126 pounds and with Odom on his back proceeded to race S. S. Brown's three-year-old omstick, by Ben Brush-Elf, off his feet Broomstick, by Ben Brush—Elf, of his feet in the first mile. Broomstick carried 115 peunds, giving one pound by the scale to Waterboy, while John Boden's Rosetint, a four-year-old mare by Hastings—Lady Rosemary, who was the only other starter, received sixteen pounds from Broomstick and fifteen from the Watercress horse. As Highborn. 104 Esterre. 101 Broomstick had once beaten Waterboy at Second Race - Steeplechase: selling; short course: a mile over at Sheepshead Bay and had wom the Brighton Handicap, with 104 pounds, in world's record time, he was made an odds on favorite, but the calculating students of racing who did not believe that he could handle the weight imposed kept off the race altogether, or played Waterboy, who was never lower than even money and at one time was quoted at 7 to 8 in a few books, though at to 10 was the general figure when the bugle usiled the herses to the post. Trainer Joyner had declared openly that if Waterboy could not win this race he would be retired to the stud, but in view of his signal success the Watercress horse will probably be a starter in the Baratoga Handicap, although he will be especially prepared for the Great Republic, in which he will carry

When the barrier was raised Broomstick stumbled and almost unseated Burna. The hot headed jockey drew his whip and hustled Broomstick pell mell after Waterboy, who had rushed to the front and had secured the rail position from Rosetint. When the beginning of the lower turn was reached Broomstick had drawn up on equal terms with Dr. Loder... stick had drawn up on equal terms with Waterboy, while Rosetint was half a dozen lengths behind them.

With long, easy strides and Odom having double wraps. Waterboy swung around the that the crowd, numbering 20,000 spectators, broke into loud cheering. Broomstick was still under a hustling ride and stuck to his task gamely, but as Waterboy continued to keep his head in front his army of supporters were sure that they would cash. Nearing the end of the backstretch Waterboy began to draw away in earnest and the crowd was wild with delight. Burns out comstick loose, but to no avail, and the champion of last year rounded the far turn ith a lead of a length.

Waterboy swept into the homestretch conquering fashion. Odom had not urged him a particle so far and as he looked back and saw the other horses struggling hopelessly, he let the black champion sail along easily with nothing to fear. Rosetint had nade up a lot of ground by this time and Redfern put her under the whip. Broom-stick had swerved to the inner rail under similar punishment, but neither was able to extend Waterboy, who came home an easy winner by a length and a half, the cheers of the onlookers being deafening. Rosetint was game and in the final strides headed Broomstick out of the place.

"He saved his bacon!" said Joyner, when Waterboy got back to the paddock. The great horse pulled up perfectly sound and cooled out nicely. His victory was one of e most popular of the year. E. B. Thomas's Lady Amelia, with top weight, ran off with the Glen Cove Handicap for three-year-olds, six furlongs. She ruled favorite at 3 to 2, and broke so swiftly at the post that she had six lengths over her nearest rival, Frank Farrell's Juvenal Maxim, at the end of the first quarter. She romped home with five lengths to spare in the fast time of 1:12 1-5, a new record for the race and a made by Lux Casta last year, with 112 pounds The closest finish of the day occurred in the third event, for platers, at a mile and a sixteenth, when Cloverland, 6 to 1, Gay Lothario, 13 to 5 favorite, and Homestead, 100 to 1, finished heads apart in the order of his joints and filled him with ginger.

"What if he had won?" wailed Papa Joe, one of the faithful. "Oh, don't talk about it! The big feller would have had a fit."

The victory broke a long losing streak for this popular jockey. Frankie Neil, the pugilist, and his father. a well known bookmaker, took in the races on their way to Philadelphia.

on their way to Philadelphia.
Young Corbett has purchased an interest in a book at Brighton, and will remain here for some time. He has been playing the horses with considerable success lately.
While the ring was crowded, just before the last race, a broad shouldered 200-pounder plunged into a meb in front of a leading bookmaker. He used his elbows and fists with such power that several men were knocked off their pins. Others rought back, but the big fellow was too much for them. The bookmaker saw him in his wild attempt to get near and expected a plunge bet. The giant finally unfolded a one-dollar bill and said, breathlessly:
"Gimme Campo, ten te one."

"Runaway, little boy!" replied the book-aker. "We don't take less than two-dollar maker. "We don't take less than two-dollar bets!" And the giant got a grand laugh from those who had flocked around him.

Just after the third race had been run, a two-dollar bill came floating through the openwork flooring of the grand stand. A colored man pounced upon it, but a little old fellow with a red face and big cane rushed up to him and cried:

"It's mine. I saw it first."

The colored man gave up the bill reluctantly, whereupon another man appeared upon the agene and claimed the money.
"My wife dropped it, and I saw the whole proceeding from above," said he. The little fellow with the big cane became into their record here to-day. They defeated Tonbridge School by 64 runs. The visitors had decidedly the better of the game all through, for, with the exception of G. S. Bryan-Brown, who scored 47 for Tonbridge, none of the home team could do anything with Haverford's slow bowlers on a fast drying wicket, and they were all disposed of for 92 runs.

Haverford risked sending their opponents to the bat after winning the toes. The innovation proved a complete success, and the result of the game bore out the good judgment of Capt. Morris, who has before proved himself a correct judge of the game. With scores exceeding 30 from R. L. Pearson, A. H. Hopkins, F. D. Godley and C. C. Morris the Americans' total amounted to 156, which left them plenty of margin to consider their victory easy. he roared, pulling out a handful of green-backs. But when the Pinkertons showed up, and the man from above told his story, the little fellow handed the two-dollar bill to the trate husband, with the comment: "I guess it is rours, at that." The row draw a crowd, which was dispersed by the police. Spends Outle Despatch to Tup Stir.

FIFTY-TWO YACHTS IN RACES. | NEW YORKS LOSE TO DETROIT GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. Strong Wind Favors Larchment's Regatta. DRAKE AND GATES LOSE $60,000

Fifty-two yachts started in the open regatts of the Larchmont Yacht Club yesterday. A strong breeze from the north-northwest favored the boats, and they made fast time over their respective courses. The wind was too strong for some of the small ones. and there were a few mishaps in the larger classes. The Neola withdrew at the end by the first round. The Spasm broke the jaws of her gaff when she was in the lead, and some of the smaller boats parted throat or peak halliards. There were no serious mis-

HORSES COMPETE FOR RIBBONS. One Pair Runs Away and Frightens Show

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 20 .-- Three thousand persons occupied seats in the grand noon. A number of new entries were no-ticed. It was learned that Reginald Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt will be here to-morrow and stay until the final judgings. Black Pattie and Virginia Coon, a black pair exhibited by John Spratley of New York, broke away while they were being shown on the tanbark to a halter. They PHILADELPHIA (A. L.), 2; ST. LOUIS (A. L.), were stopped in their mad flight in front of PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Two sensation the clubhouse by a foreman. The specula-tors became frightened and sourried to places of safety.

The competition for saddle horses was of safety.

The competition for saddle horses was keen. The blue ribbon was given to Harriette, a brown mare entered by George Watson, Jr., of New York, and the red went to Waubun, a brown gelding owned by W. H. Collier of New York.

The class for thoroughbred hunters was decided quickly. Fair Acres Farm, Westfield, N. J., captured the first and second prizes with Aristocrat, formerly Hersey, and Rube, respectively. Both horses were ridden by Dick Donnelly.

Miss Cynthia Roche was applauded heartily as she drove the bay gelding Fireman, the property of the Elm Court Lodge, around the tanbark ring. The contest was for horses and runabouts. She got the red rosette Mrs. John Gerken of Gravesend, L. I., landed first prize with her chestnut gelding Newsboy. The blue ribbon was awarded to Herbert T. Drake, Boston, for his pair of roadsters, Autograph and Rena Belle.

In the tandem class Elm Court Lodge, Newport, won the first honors with Favorite and Florizel, black geldings: the second prize went to Lehman Strauss, New York, who entered Salute and Command. Lord Golden and Lord Golden II., formerly big winners, were beaten in this event.

S. J. Holloway, Hartsdale, N. Y., won the live ribbon with the qualified hunter Jack Frost. Charles Pfizer, Bernardsville, N. J., landed the red with Your Fellow.

The contest for harness horses was spirited. Mrs. Gerken's Newsboy won first honors. Second choice fell to Kissing, a bay mare exhibited by Edward Knieriem, Sayville, L. I.

ARROW SCOOTS BY TARANTULA.

The Arrow, Charles R. Flint's fast steam yacht, and W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr.'s, Tarantula had an impromptu race yesterday, and the Arrow won. The Tarantula had left her anchorage off dreat Neck with Mr. Vander-Arrow won. The Tarantula had left her anchorage off dreat Neck with Mr. Vander-bilt on board, and was on her way to the city. The Arrow, in the mean time, had gone down the Sound, and when the Tarantula was sheridan. The Journal of Minutes. bilt on board, and was on her way to the city. The Arrow, in the mean time, had gone down she Sound, and when the Tarantula was sighted she turned and started after the turbine yacht. The Arrow burns hard coal, and it only took a few minutes for her to get on a good head of steam. The Tarantula was using soft coal, and black smoke was beiching out of her stacks.

The Arrow quickly overhauled the Tarantula, and went by that yacht in a way that surprised every one. She continued on and did not slow up until she was off the New York Yacht Club station at the foot of East Twenty-third street. It was estimated by those on board that she was then from three to four miles in the lead.

The Tarantula on her official trial made 26.78 knots, or 30.8 statute miles, an hour. Since then she has been improved with new propellers, and it is said her speed has been increased to 29 knots, or 33.4 statute miles, an hour. The Arrow on her official trial made a mile at the rate of 38.19 knots, or 45.6 statute miles, an hour, and although she has been in commission for three years she seems to be in as good condition as when she was first tried.

 DETROIT, 11: NEW YORE (A. L.), 4. The Detroits were the New York Americans superiors at all stages yesterday. Griff's cripples were outfielded considerably, outbatted still more and outcored by a large majority. Powell was in the box for five innings and was bumped so briskly that he re-tired. The work of the infield behind him was rocky, he himself participating in the poor support. Some long, hard drives were made off Clarkson, but he was an improvement over Powell.

The New Yorks were helpless in Kitson's hands until Detroit had a big lead, then they did their share of the long distance hitting.

CHICAGO (A. L.), 8: WASHINGTON, 0. WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Chicagos revelled in another carnival of solid, sequential hitting here to-day and won their fourth consecutive victory. The score:

Bryn Mawr Polo Team Beats Rocksway CEDARHURST, L. I., July 20 .- Philadelphia's polo team, the Bryn Mawr first four, lined up this afternoon against the Rocksway Hunting Club second team in the semi-final match for the Rockaway Hunting Club cups in the invitation tournament.

Their rating of half a dozen goals made the Rockaway four look winners in the first part of the match, but the best they could do after the Quaker City team got going was a solitary goal scored by Chancey. One quarter of that went for a safety in the third period, leaving the home quartet with a net score of 8½ goals. The Philadelphians lost the same for a safety and scored in all 9 goals.

The score was: Rockaway, 8½ goals.

Bryn Mawr, 8½ goals.
